Attention is directed to the communication of "A Petitioner," in regard to the county seat removal. A Petitioner is a most excellent gentleman in head and heart, and what he writes deserves respectfully consideration. If he is really anxious to live at a county seat, why Hickman will welcome him as a life, energetic business man and accept him as a valuable acquisition. But, really, there is no such man as he is described before our people, argument is unnecessary.

A Man Drowned.—On Sunday morning, a man giving his name as Jack Hunter, of Perry, Hunter, was drowned in the river, above the elevator, where a large log boom was situated. Hunter had been employed to help load the stove, and was on the log when it fell on him. From the time he was off on Sunday and Monday, he was in the water, and his body was not seen until Sunday night. Sunday night about 10 o'clock he came from town to the boat, and was in company with a man he claimed to be his partner. Hunter was so drunk that he fell on the ground between the railroad track and the boat, and was asleep in that position. A green noticed him in this condition, and called to him. Hunter went into the car, and died of it. The heavy stone came up, and looking out by the lighter's flash he observed Hunter's hat on the ground, but could see nothing of Hunter. He commenced searching for him, and about the time he heard, or imagined he heard, a struggling in the water between the bank and the boat. Hunter was never seen after he got to sleep on the bank. The price paid for the hat was $10.00. The man who found it, and that he got up to the boat, and was in the boat, and being drunk, staggered into the river. This is the most common story told by the officers that a suspicious character had proposed to a young man, who was in the boat, and the officers were hunting up the proposition to rob, when Hunter was drowned. Mr. Greenhouse, however, who thought that he was robbed and threw him into the river, understood by the officers that a suspicious character had proposed to a young man, who was in the boat, and the officers were hunting up the proposition to rob, when Hunter was drowned. Mr. Greenhouse, however, who thought that he was robbed and threw him into the river, understood by the officers that a suspicious character had proposed to a young man, who was in the boat, and the officers were hunting up the proposition to rob, when Hunter was drowned.

Conkling refers to Arthur as "that staid old."

The cry for the old ticket—Tilden and Hendricks—is coming from all sections of the country.

Congress, it is generally thought, will adjourn sine die about June 25th.

The Greenbackers will hold a Convention at Indianapolis May 26th to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President.

Auditor Hewitt says there will be a deficit in June of $77,091.47 in the State Treasury. The Legislature did it.

New that the district committee has not ordered a primary election, to be held on Saturday, Aug. 24th, to be held at all the stations for Congress will not submit their names to that day and abide by the result.

It seems that Gen. Grant's loss in the battle of Vicksburg was $100,000. He was only a special private in the battle and only liable for the amount he had borrowed.

The passage of the bill to prevent the spread of the disease is a victory for Senator John S. Williams. It is a measure of great importance to the farmers and stock-raisers.

Blaine will be the Republican nominee. It looks so now. Whatever doubt there may be about the Democrats hearing Arthur or a dark horse, there can be none about our hearing Mr. Blaine.

Garrison, the young lawyer of Russellville, Ky., who was shot and wounded by a couple of braves or attorneys named Stanley and Garrigue, has brought suit in the United States District Court at Louisville for $50,000 damages.

Some Republicans are now anxious to have a son of Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, put on their national ticket; it may read Lincoln & Hamlin as it did when old Abe was first elected.

Logan now refuses to speak to Lincoln and will do all he can to prevent Lincoln's nomination for Vice President. He says that he who was made Lincoln's Secretary of War, and he considers Lincoln's treacherous.

The National Medical Association which has been in session at Washington this week has decided by 1240 of the "war-house and pill-washers." It was the largest convention of that character ever held in the country and many eminent physicians and surgeons were present.

Bob Ingersoll is failing to attract listeners to his infidel discourse. His boldness, wit, and novel warfare on the Bible has lost its attraction and made him a fortune. He now has no other plan now to get in the dollars. He would no doubt turn preacher if it were not for this.

The Committee of the Kentucky Legislature charged with the investigation of the alleged corruption of members during the session of the United States Senator has reported that no bribery occurred as far as it was able to ascertain. The committee will make a final report in a few days.

The bill to loan the New Orleans Cotton Exposition $100,000, has passed the House of Representatives at Washington by a decisive vote. The probabilities are that it will pass the Senate and become a law.

The Cincinnati News-Journal is bankrupt, and has passed into the hands of a receiver. It was started by Gov. John Q. Underwood for the purpose of killing off the Enquirer and made a grand success. The debts of the concern are estimated at $100,000. It is almost an impossibility to kill an established newspaper.

There were more than seventy speakers at the annual meeting of the Henry County Lotters, which was held at the county seat, and yet it is said that not one vote was changed by this immense, and to the contrary, the vote of logic and oratory, which is but another evidence of the fact that speech making is a very little.

The Postoffice officials have made such persistent war on the Henry County Lotters that they have been forced to quit business. The action of Postmaster General Greathouse has been the cause of this matter, and if he succeeds in forcing the Louisville Lotters to violate into bankruptcy, he will make an impossibility to kill an established newspaper.

James B. Keene, the millionaire speculator, who, on Wednesday, announced his intention to make his obligations, came to this country from England where he had made his fortune, and he is now in the hands of his creditors.

THE NEW SCHOOL LAW.

Tennant, Tennessee, May 8.

The common school law just enacted by the Kentucky Legislature contains several new provisions of importance. It adds to the common school fund the tax of twenty-two cents on every $100 worth of railroad property owned by the commonwealth, and such share of the special taxes paid by turnpike companies, banks and other corporations as twenty-two cents of every $100 worth of property owned by them.
